

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Janet C. Boyd, Esq.

For more than 18 years, Janet has provided legal counsel to a number of tax-exempt organizations. She has served as a CAF America board member since 1999, and as president of CAF America from 2002-2014.

Janet currently works for the Dow Chemical Company in Washington, D.C., providing legal and policy advice on tax, corporate governance, and employee benefits issues. Before joining Dow, she was a partner in the law firm of Akin, Gump, Strauss, Hauer and Feld, L.L.P.

Janet received a bachelor's degree in journalism from the University of Texas-Austin and a law degree from the George Washington University National Law Center. She is a member of the Bar in the District of Columbia and a member of the American Bar Association's Tax Section. She also serves on the board of the Tax Council.

Mo Lidsky

Mo is a principal at Prime Quadrant LP. Prior to Prime Quadrant, Mo spent 10 years as a social entrepreneur, balancing the growth of his commercial ventures and his passionate involvement with non-profits.

Mo was the co-founder and owner of TMX Inc., a group of automobile restoration companies in Northeast Ohio, Founding Vice-President of CharityBids LLC, an online auction platform serving the non-profit sector, Chairman of FundCoaches Inc., a virtual fund-raising institute, and founding partner of Apex Global Capital, a micro-finance company in the Caribbean.

Philanthropically, Mo spent five years as the national director and chief executive officer of Yeshiva University (Canada), Chairman of the THJ Foundation, and is still active on the boards of several non-profit organizations. He is currently completing his second book, entitled The Philanthropic Mind, profiling Canada's 100 most generous philanthropists.

Mo holds multiple degrees, Magna Cum Laude, in Economics and Psychology, from Yeshiva University, and has an MBA from the University of Toronto's Rotman School of Management.

Neil Galliaiford

Neil is a former national director, donor-based campaigns, at the MS Society of Canada and founder of Cornerstone Response Management, the leading fundraising database management and donation processing firm in Canada. He was also founding editor of The Fundraiser's Handbook, published by the Canadian Marketing Association.

In 2006, upon his appointment as president of Stephen Thomas, FRM Consulting, which Neil founded in 2000, merged with ST. FRM Consulting to provide strategic advice, program audits, and marketing consulting services to some of Canada's leading not-for-profits, including the Canadian Cancer Society, Ontario and British Columbia & Yukon Divisions, the Heart & Stroke Foundation of Ontario, the March of Dimes, the Toronto Humane Society, and Mount Sinai Hospital in Toronto.

Ted Hart

Ted Hart brings extensive experience in internet and global philanthropy as an internationally recognized speaker and consultant on topics related to nonprofit strategy and board/volunteer development both online and offline. He previously served as CEO of Hart Philanthropic Services, an international consultancy to major nonprofits/NGOs. He was critical in the creation of People to People Fundraising, now an online fundraising movement, and the international ePhilanthropy Foundation. He has become the world source in helping nonprofits become more environmentally friendly, founding the "greennonprofits.org" movement and writing the book Going Green for Nonprofits.

Previously, Hart has served as CEO of the University Maryland Medical System Foundation and as Chief Development Officer for Johns Hopkins Medicine, Bayview Campus. One of the youngest professionals ever awarded the Advanced Certified Fund Raising Executive (ACFRE), Hart is the editor and author of numerous books and published articles and also hosts the "Nonprofit Coach" radio show. His most recent book is entitled Internet Management for Nonprofits. He has also served as an adjunct faculty member to the Master of Science in Fundraising Management program at Columbia University in New York.

David Venne

With more than 18 years working in the sector and managing over $30 million in donations annually, David brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to this position. He has strong leadership skills and an understanding of both charitable giving and international grantmaking.

Before joining CAF America, David worked as a consultant to the United States Department of State, Bureau of Resource Management. He oversaw the world-wide rollout of a custom-built federal budgeting, financial planning and funds control software to each US Embassy and Consulate. Prior to that, he spent 4 years as Director of Finance and Administration managing annual donations of $22 million at Christian Service Charities, which represented 130 national and international charities in federal, state, local and private sector workplace giving campaigns.

David's initial foray in the sector was at a relief and development agency that provided affordable housing and development support to communities across the US and overseas – including Appalachia, the Native American Nations, the Baltics and East Africa. David has a B.A. in Accounting from Luther College, Decorah, IA.
